Wow! October has been a hectic month for a vast array of projects undertaken and completed. Most of the projects involved preparing grant applications, business plans and pitch deck. Happy to receive the following testimonial from one of my clients:

"Excellent performance! Peter demonstrated very high level of professionalism, knowledge and ability to get to the bottom of the subject, ability of market and business analysis, ability of project financial analysis and budgeting. He had written excellent business plan and some other business documentation for us and made valuable contribution to our business development. I recommend his services to anyone who is thinking about producing high quality business documentation."
